A CORRECTION.

Editor Roundabout:

In the Courier-Journal of Wednesday last, there is an article headed "Romances," in which the writer makes several errors in regard to the Blackburn family.

The first is that in which he styles "Uncle Ned Blackburn" (the father of Senator Blackburn), as "Dr. E. M. Blackburn." Uncle Ned had a brother by the name of Dr. Churchill Blackburn, and this, probably, accounts for the mistake. Dr. Blackburn was an elder in the Woodford Presbyterian Church, and removed to Covington and died there many years ago.

The next error is in stating that Will. Ed. Blackburn, Senator Blackburn's brother, was killed in a duel with a "young Capt. Steele." The facts are that young Blackburn and Capt. Thos. Steele, late of this county, had a personal encounter, at Harmony Church, in which young Blackburn was the aggressor, he having assaulted Capt. Steele with a loaded whip. Capt. Steele defended himself as best he could, being a delicate man, with a walking cane, which young Blackburn finally wrenched from his hands, and in turn was striking Steele over the head, when he drew a small brass-barreled pistol from his pocket and fired, shooting Blackburn through the stomach and bowels, at the same time receiving a severe blow on the head, from which he was almost thrown to the ground.

There had been previous trouble between the sons of Uncle Ned Blackburn and the sons of Capt. Steele, this leading up to the fatal encounter.

Young Blackburn lingered for about 48 hours, and, dying, begged his brothers to drop the trouble, which was years afterwards happily done, but not before Dr. Theophilus Steele (now of New York City,) a son of Capt. Steele, and Capt. James Blackburn had fought a duel near Lexington, without serious result.

The shooting was a source of regret and sorrow to Capt. Thos. Steele all the rest of his life (although he believed it was a clear case of self-defense, in which belief he was sustained by the jury which tried him at Versailles, the affair having occurred just over the Woodford line).

This is the correct statement, as it was derived by the writer from his father, who was a witness, on the trial, and the writer well remembers with what a thrill of horror he heard the circumstances related, being the first shooting of which he remembers hearing.

There was a Division of the Sons of Temperance in session at Harmony Church at the time of the shooting, and it was on Saturday afternoon.

Asking pardon for this lengthy communication, I am

Respectfully,

TRUTH.

THE DELIGHTFUL RAIN.

About 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning a very gentle rain set in and kept it up until about 8:30 o'clock, p. m., when it increased in volume until it came down in a steady pour. This continued until about daylight Thursday morning, thoroughly drenching every thing and reviving vegetation nicely. It remained cloudy long enough for every drop to soak into the thirsty earth.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac. South, Longmoor & Co. 42-ly.
